SUMMARY

I am a graduate of the Information Systems bachelor's program from Nusa Mandiri University, with over 3 years of work experience across various fields, including Payroll Admin, Application Testing, Web Administration and QA, and IT Project Manager. Throughout my career, I successfully improved work timeliness by 30%. I am highly motivated to develop my skills and eager to learn new things, especially in technology and website design. I began my programming journey by completing the Hacktiv8 bootcamp as a front-end React developer. Additionally, I possess high enthusiasm and the ability to work both in teams and individually to solve problems, with strong communication skills and a high motivation to contribute to the company's progress.
